AASIA Mentoring
(Asian American Students In Action)

Are you self-motivated?
Would you like to make a difference in a student's life?
Are you a high achieving student?

If so, consider becoming a MENTOR for incoming Asian and Pacific Islander American students new to the University Park campus.

Benefits include:

- Improved leadership and communication skills.
- Immeasurable satisfaction gained from giving of yourself.
- An opportunity to make new friends and become more involved in your community.
- A chance to develop unique relationships with first-year students to the University Park campus.
- Involvement in exciting activities including picnics, pizza parties, ice skating, and hiking.
- An opportunity to learn about the numerous resources available on campus including the University Learning Centers, Bank of America Career Services, Multicultural Internship Program, and The Dickinson School of Law.
